DAVID CROCKETT WILSON--"Coming Down or Shall I Shoot?"

Military men in Atlanta are drawing their own conclusions from the fact that the United States government, for the first time in history, is sending voluntarily war equipment to the national guard of Georgia, and to national guards all over the country, and ordering instruction in war tactics to be given to all the government's training schools, both in this state and elsewhere.

Coming on the heels of the strained condition of affairs in Mexico and the government's ultimatum issued to Huerta, it is freely talked in military circles here that the national guard of Georgia, including Atlanta's Fifth regiment, may be called upon at a moment's notice to take the field.

Officers of the Fifth have received word from Washington that government equipment, including a full complement of small arms, is being sent to every national guard in the country.

Since the Fifth regiment has been in the line for some time, it is not small wonder that the government is sending it the equipment it needs.

That the new equipment has been sent to the Fifth regiment from the war department at Washington, it is accomplished only by order to put into regular storage.

Officers of the Fifth, it is said, are waiting for developments that may bring the Fifth into the line.

While no explanation from the government is being given, it is only in one way that the militia of every state is being prepared for war.

This interpretation is borne out in the instructions given officers in the government's active offices. Map drawing, map making, and all other military work is being taught the men in the schools.

It is a long time since the Fifth was in the line, and it is not surprising that the men here say that the government is re-equiping the Fifth for the future.

Should the Fifth be called upon to take the field, it could not be ordered to any other state or to the border, but in case of war and a call for volunteers by the president, the latter is required to consider the state militia first of all.

Elections take place in seven states today. Three in Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Virginia—choose governors. Maryland elects a lieutenant governor, and state controller. Pennsylvania two circuit judges and legislators. Chief justice of court of appeals, associate judges, assembly and two state senators. New Jersey also elects a new legislature.

Congressmen are to be elected in four districts, the Third Massachusetts, Thirtieth and Twentieth New York and Third New York, Louisville, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

Many cities choose new officers, notably New York, Louisville, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

Record Vote Expected In New York Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The registered voters in Greater New York, numbering 469,742, at 6 o'clock this morning began casting their ballots for the mayor, and to decide for themselves the majority electing the prospective governor.

Other officers, including candidates for the state assembly and the city board of aldermen.

The weather was unclouded and rain was falling before the closing of the polls at 6 o'clock this afternoon, but interest in the campaign was believed to have been aroused to such a pitch that the weather was not expected to be a factor in the result.

Tammany and anti-Tammany leaders expected a record voting.

Extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent illegal voting and intimidation in the campaign was believed to have been aroused to such a pitch that the weather was not expected to be a factor in the result.

Whether there is an "affinity evil," it is not known. John R. Fulton, county clerk, said that the election was not expected to be a factor in the result.

Three thousand dollars are needed in two days to save Atlanta's Industrial Home for the Blind.

Pityfully Atlanta can prevent a great and good work from going to smash.

If fifty will give $25, if others will give what they can, the Home for the Blind will not go under the auctioneer's hammer and many sightless men and women whose sustenance depends on the work which the Industrial Home gives them, will not be forced into mendicancy.

J. K. Orr, chairman of a meeting held Monday night at the First Baptist church to raise funds for the home, has issued an appeal to the good citizens of Atlanta to come forward and do their part.

The meeting Monday night was a very successful one. A large number of people were present and the collection was very liberal.

AS THE DEBATE SET OUT
DEBATES ULTIMATUM

Keeping Battleships Beyond Time Limit in Mexican Waters Actually Amounts to Declaration of War, and Uncle Sam Orders Them to Stay on the Job—More Troops Sent to El Paso, on Border

EUROPEAN NATIONS ARE SURE TO STAND BY UNITED STATES IN ANY MOVE SHE MAKES

President Wilson Goes Home to Vote and Refuses to Be Worried—Senator Bacon, Conservative as Usual, Only Says Matters Are Rapidly Nearing a Climax—Diplomats See Nothing for Huerta but Acquiescence or War

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Extraordinary activity in the state and navy department and unusual reticence regarding Mexico marked the attitude of the administration today. The president is away and neither the secretary of state, the secretary of the navy nor the acting secretary of war would admit that an ultimatum has been sent to the Huertista.

Senator Bacon, who is the chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, was at the state department and sat for a long time in conference with Secretary Bryan and Secretary of the Navy Daniels. When the senator finally broke away he was asked several questions.

"Has the administration, with the knowledge of the other powers interested notified Huerta that he must resign and must not be succeeded by any other member of his own political party or own immediate political family?" was one question.

"I would not say it is any more serious, but I will say it seems to me to be coming to a head. Anybody ought to see it is coming to a head."

"And coming rapidly?"

"Well, I will say it is nearing conclusion."

Secretary Bryan issued a statement. He declined to discuss the use of the word "ultimatum" or "ultimatum," saying he had no more to say than the statement itself conveyed. It was as follows:

"I have made it a rule not to discuss newspaper reports concerning international matters; but the nature of the dispatches from Mexico this morning suggest a departure from the rule at this time. No ultimatum has been sent to Mexico and it is unfortunate that the press should give credence to such a report. The barrier by which I have been even in regard to domestic questions is limited because I am acquainted with the subject and can make allowances; but as misstatements in regard to international matters may lead to serious consequences, I feel justified in making the above denial."

ACCEPTED AS FACT. In diplomatic circles, it is accepted as a fact that the Wilson administration has served notice upon Huerta that he must resign, and must see to it that none of his immediate political associates assume control of the affairs of Mexico. It is believed that the ultimatum is not worked as emphatically as the newspaper dispatches claim.

Secretary Daniels of the navy department, said after the conference with the other members of the state department, "The situation is such that the executive of the state department is declining to comment on any of the other reports from Mexico City regarding the presentation of a summary note to Huerta requesting his resignation."

"What about the movements of the fleet?"

"The three battleships that were to have left the Mexican coast tomorrow have been ordered to remain there indefinitely, and four more have been ordered to leave. Some other ships of the navy are within easy reach of the Mexican coast. This statement of the secretary was considered highly significant. The Mexican navy places a light on the three foreign vessels which may remain in Mexican waters. That limit for the three battleships has expired. Therefore, when the secretary orders the three ships to leave, the Mexican navy will be left without a shadow of a doubt. This, diplomats say, amounts to a declaration of war which would be a very serious step, although such a declaration need not necessarily be followed by fighting until Huerta starts to attack the United States."

Gen. Huerta Says Nothing

Denial Issued in Mexico, Too

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—There was no indication here today that Provisional President Huerta has yet delivered any reply to the ultimatum of the United States government, telling him he must resign the presidency without loss of time and that he must not leave as his successor any of his adherents whom he might be able to control.

In official quarters here as well as at the United States embassy, credible denials were still made today as to the transmission of the ultimatum. The communication from the American government, however, was called for today at which it appeared probable that the matter would come up for discussion.

The only reference to the incident in the local newspapers was that which appeared in Associated Press dispatches from Washington, that when Huerta had been told of the ultimatum, he had said to Nelson, O'Shaughnessy, American chargé d'affaires, brought out a denial.

TO WORK AGAIN

With the advent of November the summer vacation season is a thing of the past, and when one enters business places the brown faces and bright eyes of the office help tell of the vim and energy of thousands who have settled down to the long grind.

But the settling process brings with it many wants. Perhaps it is that more help is needed and maybe a bigger, better place to work in.

These and all similar needs are quickly, cheaply and easily obtained through The Journal's Want Ad columns.

Convicts Planning to Escape From Prison Get Too Drunk to Go

(By Associated Press.)

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Nov. 4.—Two drunken prisoners with a riot gun and a knife, planning to escape from the Morris County Jail, got so drunk on beer that they could not go.

The 17 prisoners, Eugene Sampson and John Burns, were placed last night in the hospital ward with several other prisoners charged, like themselves, with minor offenses. Sampson and Burns picked the key to the door into the keeper's office, broke open a desk and procured a bottle of liquor that had been taken from a drunken prisoner a few days before. This they drank.

Then they broke into a store room and obtained a riot gun and ammunition. Returning to the hospital ward, they closed the iron door and began firing through it. As each shell contained a number of bullets. The keeper's office was riddled.

TWO NEGRO HIGHWAYMEN GIVEN 20 YEARS IN PEN

Extreme Penalty Imposed on Men Accused of Robbing
Attorney Hooper

Sam Reed and Oscar Wright, negroes, were sentenced to twenty years each in the penitentiary—the extreme penalty of the law—by Judge Ben H. Hill in the criminal division of the superior court Tuesday, when they were found guilty of holding up, assaulting and robbing Attorney Frank M. Hooper June 2.

Mr. Hooper, widely known because of his association with Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorey in the prosecution of Earl K. Long, was one of the first witnesses called by the state, and he recounted in the jury the dramatic story of the hold-up.

Mr. Hooper, on the night of June 2, was walking along Eighth and Piedmont streets on one side of the street, and the other went near the curb, forcing the attorney to walk between them. Suddenly, Mr. Hooper, who the court has not mentioned hitting him, one of them seized his brass knuckles and the other a sand bag.

POURTY WITH ATLANTA.
He was knocked down but quickly gained his feet and clutched with Oscar Wright, the larger of the negroes. Down went the attorney, who fell 20 feet to the bottom of the ravine.

The negroes landed on top, and checking Mr. Hooper with one hand held the brass knuckles with the other, leaving more than twenty gashes on the lawyer's face and head.

While Wright was hammering the lawyer in the face with the knuckles and went through his pockets, taking a watch and $2.

Finally the two highwaymen left the beaten and battered attorney in a semi-conscious condition and escaped in the darkness.

City Detective Waggoner and Dorey worked on the case several weeks and finally located Mr. Hooper's watch in a pawn shop. They then traced it to the negroes, who confessed. They repaid the confession in court, but the evidence was all against them and a jury quickly returned a verdict of guilty.

PRISON BOARD CONSIDERS MANY PLEAS FOR PARDON

Several petitions for executive clemency were argued before the state prison commission Monday afternoon. No action has been taken by the board on any of them.

The pardon application of J. Mangham, of Griffin, who is serving a four-year sentence for embezzlement, alleged to have been committed in connection with the failure of Griffin cotton mill, of which Mangham was an official, will be argued Tuesday afternoon. This hearing has been in progress several months.

CORN CLUB BOYS TO BE AWARDED DIPLOMAS

State University Will Honor Those Who Raised 100 Bushels to Acre

Diplomas from the University of Georgia will be awarded at the corn show to all corn club boys who have made 100 bushels or more of corn to the acre in Georgia this year.

These diplomas will be delivered to the boys by Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture.

A concerted effort will be made this year in other ways to increase the number of corn club members who make more than 100 bushels to the acre. There is talk of organizing within the membership of the corn club a "hundred bushel" club, which it is believed, could start with 100 or 150 members. Last year there were 77 boys in Georgia who made 100 bushels or more to the acre. This year it is expected there will be 100 or more boys. This "hundred bushel" plan is being pushed not merely to stimulate further effort among the boys to show the world that by proper cultivation a hundred bushels of corn can be raised to the acre on practically any fair corn growing land in Georgia. Among those who have accepted invitations to deliver addresses during the corn show are Governor Clayton, Hon. M. B. Brittain, state superintendent of schools, Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the College of Agriculture, Wilmer L. Moore, president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, O. B. Martin, of the United States department of agriculture, J. Paul Campbell, state superintendent of the Georgia Boys' Corn Club, and Miss Mary E. Crowell, superintendent of the Girls' Canning club, and others.

Public Kissing of Girls Costs Young Men a Fine

Three Daughters of Mrs. Mary Blake Are Placed on Probation

Three young girls, daughters of Mrs. Mary Blake, of 27 Cortez street, were placed on probation by the recorder Monday as the result of the testimony of members of the vice squad.

Two young men, Will Wetling and Ed Webb, who, it is alleged, kissed the two younger girls, Blake, eighteen years old, and Ruby, seventeen years old, in sight of the neighbors, were fined $5.25 each.

Two young men, Will Wetling and Arrowood, who had been watching the Blake family several days, testified that the conduct of the young women was unbecoming. They asserted that the girls were in the habit of taking long pony rides and long walks with young men, and that a chaperon was dispensed with. The officers said they shadowed the girls as they walked through West-end Heights with young men, but were given the slip in the woods, they told the court.

The recorder was also arraigned. Several neighbors, the complainants, were in court to testify against the female while friends were called by Mrs. Blake as character witnesses.

Decatur Men Turn Down Proposed Amendments

A large majority of the citizens of Decatur, who assembled at the court house in that city Monday evening to discuss certain proposed amendments to the Decatur charter, advised a rejection opposing these amendments.

The proposed amendments upon which an election will be held Wednesday, provide that members of the council be not elected themselves and would make the city marshal, the superintendent of waterworks and the city clerk elective by a direct vote of the people. These positions are now filled by appointments of the mayor and council.

Atlanta Women Patriotic?

Certainly They Are!

In Atlanta there are stacks of D. A. R.'s.

Also there are stacks of U. D. C's.

There are hundreds of loyal Club Women.

There are thousands of enthusiastic Church-working-women.

There are more thousands of women who just stay at home and are equally busy running things there. They're not "organized," maybe; but they're well-wishers, just the same.

Atlanta is proud of the splendid work that the women are doing—the civic, the religious, the educational, the domestic.

Atlanta knows that her women can do things and do them right.

But you take all these women,—organized and otherwise,—busy, brainy, open-eyed and open-minded, far-seeing, clever, and everything else that they should be.

Look them over. Are they PATRIOTIC?

"W-h-a-t?" screams somebody—"Are they PATRIOTIC? What d'you mean patriotic?"

Surely they're patriotic. Don't they wear the pins and put flowers on the graves of the soldiers? Don't they send the soldiers' children to school and help provide for the veterans? Don't they do the hundred other sweet and beautiful things they find needing to be done?

They do indeed.

And don't the club women have clean-ups and civic-improvement leagues and pure-milk campaigns and kindergartens and free lectures and other things to build up the town and community?

They do indeed.

And don't the church women do all sorts of good works for the uplift of the town and of the whole wide world?

They do indeed.

And don't the home women do the duties of their sex in fine and noble fashion and keep things going for everybody else?

They do indeed.

All of which is good and fine and sensible and—PATRIOTIC.

And yet there's a great big sense in which many of Atlanta's own best women are lacking in LOCAL patriotism,—or perhaps local LOYALTY will be the better word.

It is this: There are some ATLANTA women who don't INSIST UPON HAVING ATLANTA-MADE FOODS.

Why is this do you suppose?

These women are strong for ATLANTA. They want her to prosper commercially as well as otherwise.

Yet they do not INSIST ON ATLANTA-MADE FOODS.

Perhaps they just don't think about it. Listen Ladies:

Don't you know that OUR business, as manufacturers, is intimately related to the business that your husbands and fathers and brothers are doing?

Don't you see that whatever helps to make more business for the community makes more business for EACH individual in the community.

Don't you know that keeping the money at home, turning it over LOCALLY, is the thing that is going to build up the town as nothing else will?

The more of our products we sell to YOU, through YOUR grocers, the more money will we have to enlarge our factories and extend our business.

The better our business, the more people we employ. The more people we employ, the more people there are to buy supplies and furnish patronage to other businesses.

We could go on and on along this line. But you see the point.

YOU WOMEN OF ATLANTA HAVE THIS MATTER IN YOUR HANDS.

Don't let it be said that you lack LOCAL LOYALTY!

If ATLANTA-MADE FOODS, our foods, were not just as good as you can buy, we wouldn't ask you to patronize us.

If we weren't sure that we can give you the truest quality and the fullest value for every dollar you spend on our products, we wouldn't expect your custom.

But we can deliver the QUALITY and the VALUE.

We ask you, in all fairness, to let us do it. Your Grocer will give you what you DEMAND. DEMAND OUR STUFF!

BOY, STUCK BY MOTOR,

Robert Caldwell Gives Himself Up to Police After Death of John Eisele

John E. Eisele, Jr., the nine-year-old son of J. K. Eisele, of 42 Mills street, who was struck by an automobile Monday afternoon at Peachtree and Ivy streets, died a few hours later in a hospital.

Witnesses say the boy attempted to cross the street and had just dodged an automobile when he was struck and he had some distance by a machine driven by Robert Caldwell, also going north. Caldwell was passing the first machine on the left and consequently did not see the boy until too late. He says that he was not going at a fast rate.

The injured boy was taken to Marshall's pharmacy at 1410 N. St. John's highway, Caldwell was taken to the police station and reported the accident. He was charged with reckless driving and bond was fixed at $500.

The boy was popular at Sacred Heart school, which he attended, and Father M. L. Dolan, his pastor, presided at the funeral which was held Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church.

Secretary Jacobs Gets Many Subscriptions at New Orleans Meeting

Olethore university has just added 25 members to its board of directors. Secretary Jacobs, secretary of the board, has returned from New Orleans, where he addressed the annual convention in the interest of Olethore, and is gratified with results, pointing to the remarkable record of forty-one addresses and not one of them eliciting a subscription of less than $100.

Many have doubled and trebled the sum.

At the New Orleans meeting R. P. Jones, a prominent member of that city, told Mr. Jacobs he had never heard of Olethore before and had subscribed $1,000. Five members of the Olethore jointly contributed another $1,000.

Members complete a chain of states extending from Wisconsin to Texas, from which contributions have been received, and there are 15 to 20 of directors of whom there will be 25 before the new year, according to Mr. Jacobs.

Dixon to Take Leading Role Here in His Play "The Leopard's Spots"

Thomas Dixon, author, playwright, actor, will appear on the stage at the Atlanta theater the last of this week in all three performances of the dramatic version of his famous book, "The Leopard's Spots."

Honor George, manager of the Atlanta theater, has received a telegram from Mr. Dixon saying he will play the leading role at all performances. The telegram says that he decided to do this in response to numerous requests.

Whether Mr. Dixon's histrionic ability is equal to his ability as an author, Atlanta never has had the opportunity of judging. Mr. Dixon is probably the only author in America who makes a practice of appearing in his own plays. It was not his original intention to appear in "The Leopard's Spots," and his change of mind is said to have attracted wide attention.

IGNORANCE BLAMED FOR FEELING AGAINST FRANK

Frank Lefkoff Traces Mob Spirit to Illiteracy in Debating Compulsory Education

In his argument on the affirmative side of the debate on the subject "Shall we Have Compulsory Education?" held under the auspices of the speaking department of the Jewish Educational Alliance Monday evening, Frank Lefkoff declared that illiteracy is the result of a lack of education, and the speaker charged that much of the alleged prejudice against Leo M. Frank was due to ignorance and illiteracy.

A unanimous decision in favor of compulsory education was rendered by the judges. Mr. Lefkoff was followed by E. Levine, who opened the debate for the negative side. M. Zalan spoke for the affirmative and J. Brail concluded the negative argument.

The critics' report was read by S. H. Buskin, and Attorney Leonard J. Grossman delivered an address, in which he discussed the technical construction of a debate. An address endorsing the public speaking department of the Jewish Alliance was made by Rabbi J. Leob, formerly of Birmingham.

CALL AD MEN TO RESCUE OF HOME FOR THE BLIND

Friends Fail to Raise $3,000 Fund and Will Ask Help of Live Wire Club

If the Atlanta Ad Men's club will come to the rescue of the Industrial Home for the Blind and begin a campaign for subscriptions to aggregate $3,000, the institution will be saved from sale under the hammer Tuesday.

At a public meeting held in the interest of the home at the First Baptist church Monday night, only a dozen men were present. Their contributions are coming to $475. Realizing that immediate action was necessary to keep a roof over the heads of the blind, those present decided to enlist the support of the Ad Men, who have always responded cheerfully when called upon for help on similar occasions.

With the immediate prospect of assistance, it is thought that the sale of the property can be deferred for a few days until the Ad Men are able to come to the rescue. A committee will visit the club Tuesday morning and its aid will be solicited. If the necessary money is raised, the home will be able to become self-supporting through the manufacture and sale of braille.

"Podo" FROM PODOPHYLLIN—"LAX"—EASY

PoDoLax—Podophyllin or Mandrake or May Apple Root With the Gripping and Nausea Taken Out

Why was the gripe taken out? Because the head—headache or coated tongue—or bad breath—or bloated stomach—is nature's signal. They say plain or than words that the bile is damaged in the intestinal tract is nature's signal. They say plain or than words that the bile is damaged in the intestinal tract is nature's signal. They say plain or than words that the bile is damaged in the intestinal tract is nature's signal.

Only a few years ago, 20 or 30 Calomel and Podophyllin was the favorite prescription of everybody for an inactive liver. Calomel (mercury) and its dangers proved its own undoing. Podophyllin fell into disrepute because of the intense griping that accompanied its work and the deadly sickness that followed its use. The public fought its use on this account. It was safe and never failed to relieve the damaged bile in the liver but because of its ferocious action, was prescribed only in desperate cases and then after all the gentle methods had failed.

Some of the old-fashioned Doctors who believed in getting results regardless of the patient's feelings continued its use and it is now used by them and by some others as a last resort.

But on that fortune so freely predicted for the discoverer of a painless and stokes Podophyllin, every Chemist was busy trying to take out the gripe and nausea. Of course it was accomplished and now it is offered to the world under the name of PoDoLax.

PoDoLax is offered to you as a preventive medicine because its best results is from small doses at the beginning of the trouble. Take it with nature's first warning and it is as sure to bring the bile out of the liver as the bile is sure to bring the bile out of the liver.

Remember that "prevention" is the only way to keep the bile out of the liver and you alone. If you don't begin with the first warning, you will make the job more difficult, but suffer the days and days of lifeless, listless living that follows a damaged up liver.

Ask for your Physician's job and the only way to deprive him of this job is to practice prevention. Take PoDoLax night and morning. Take it freely as it is harmless and pleasant to adult or child.

If you don't prevent—you are sure to repent—and the choice is yours. Ask for and insist on PoDoLax—not Podophyllin—but PoDoLax which is Podophyllin with the gripe taken out. See your druggist. E. E. Sutherland Co., Paducah, Ky.

MAN TRIES OUT THIS GUARANTEE GETS HIS MONEY BACK, BUT—

He Bought a Bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, Tied It Back and Asked for His Money and Got It.

A man recently tried out the guarantee which every druggist gives with every bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. He bought a bottle and then went back to the drug store and asked for his money back. The druggist said: "Why? He said 'I will try it for a week and if it doesn't cure me, I will return it.'"

Every druggist in town sells Dodson's Liver Tonic and guarantees it to start the liver without violence. It is taking the place of calomel everywhere. All Atlanta druggists.—(Adv.)

YOUR MONEY

A French Association for Protecting Invest-

French investors hate to be stung. When it happens, the French want to do something about it. If possible, they want to get their money back. If that isn't possible, they at least want to make sure that they will not be stung a second time in the same way.

So, the French investors get together and form organizations for investigating securities offered for sale in their country. And it is a first-class idea!

Lately, one of these organizations has changed its title, and altered somewhat its form. From a "National as-

It is, however, not an official organization, though the minister of finance has encouraged it in its work. And just what is this work?

For its members, the association watches the current history of securities, answers inquiries, advises as to purchases, forms, special committees look after the interests of security holders when trouble comes to companies issuing the securities, and, under the new form, it will throw open for the inspection of the public all its documents concerning the stocks, bonds, etc., marketed in France, whether by French or by foreign interests. The documents constitute a fairly complete history of the financing done in France for the past fifteen years.

To investors generally, such an organization as this ought to be of great service—in this country, as well as in France—ought to be formed for the purpose of supplementing the various "Blue Sky" laws which the States are passing. It would fit in very neatly between such well-intentioned legislation and the work of the lately organized Investment Bankers' association. It is the logical and business-like answer to the demand of the average investor for knowledge about investments.

Mrs. Simmons' Luncheon

To Miss Rawson
The luncheon at which Mrs. Jerome Simmons, Jr. was hostess Tuesday, at the Capital City club, was characterized by unusual beauty of detail and the occasion assembled a group of handsomely dressed young women to meet Miss Rawson, a bride-elect.

The central decoration of the pretty table was a blue enameled basket filled with large pink chrysanthemums, tied on its tall handle with a soft bow and surrounded by blue tulle. Surrounding this were smaller baskets holding pink roses, that alternated with silver candles shaded in rose. A miniature basket bearing the guest's name in gold letters marked each place and all the guests carried bouquets to face place holders, the flowers being violets, roses of many shades and valley lilies, a different color combination for every hostess.

The lovely honor guest received as a special souvenir a miniature wedding bouquet of white roses tied with tulle and showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Simmons was a charming young hostess, receiving her guests in a modish tailored gown of blue velvet, trimmed with ermine, her becoming hat of black velvet veiled with just French flowers in pastel shades.

Mrs. Allan Entertains

For Miss Ashford
Mrs. J. P. B. Allan was the hostess at a bridge party Tuesday afternoon in compliment to Miss Margaret Ashford, a bride-elect of the week, a number of friends being invited for tea after the game.

The house had a typical autumnal decoration of many hues of chrysanthemum and bright colored flowers in all the rooms, yellow being the predominant color.

The first prize was silver slipper and the consolation gold hat pin and the honor guest received a dainty gift of hand-made lingerie as a special souvenir.

Miss Ashford wore a smart afternoon gown of black tulle, trimmed with white chiffon about the corsage and bright colored velvet in the skirt, with a parasol.

Meeting of Drama

League at Terrace
The tragedy of "Sun" was the name of the play read by Mrs. Linton Hopkins Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Drama League.

Of special interest was the fact that the league had extended a most cordial invitation to Miss Edith Tanner, Miss Mable Taliaferro and Mr. Egan Hughes, who all three take leading parts in "Young Wisdom," the sparkling comedy being presented at the Atlanta theater.

The attendance at the assemblies continues to increase, and the league is among the very pleasant events of the week.

A profusion of handsome chrysanthemums of blended shades formed the decoration of the lovely home, and the same beautiful fall flowers were used in the dining room.

Mrs. Foster's guests included thirty friends, among those from out of town being Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. Charles C. Holt, and Mrs. T. C. Parker, of Macon.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1913.
Let today be your day.
Stars may tell you what to do.

According to astrology Mercury rules today for good, but Neptune is in the ascendant.
Wasteful due to too much writing is held to be under a lucky omen, waste, should mean success to literary work as well as to business transactions which could be the signing of leases or other documents.

Persons are under a fortunate rule, but there is an anxiety of loss and failure in personal affairs. Fortune, however, should benefit with this configuration prevails.

The actual influences are believed to facilitate business by quickening thought and action. As they affect the perspective judgment intuition is likely to be keen and judgment trustworthy.

There is a lucky omen for dealing with neighbors and for minor matters of commercial character.

Science of exact class should benefit. It is foretold that a new invention will make motorboats for air and water practical for general travel. Owing to Neptune's unfriendly outward and deception should be guarded against. It is not a lucky time for investments as schemers and untrustworthy persons flourish under this rule of the stars.

It is believed that psychic conditions are more easily felt while Neptune is evilly aspected and for this reason the seers declare it is well to guard against attractions to strange and undesirable persons.

The rule is believed to be unfavorable for taking anesthetics, and oils of every sort are supposed to be injurious.

Saturn is in a place interpreted as evil for agricultural affairs during the month. Losses through products of the earth are predicted.

Persons whose birthdate it is are warned to beware of accidents. Litigation is probable for those who are in business.

Children born on this day will be unusually brilliant in mind. They are likely to be impulsive and affectionate. Boys should be carefully trained for business. As subjects of Scorpio they will have a tendency to be outspoken and impetuous.

Monday afternoon the local boys after things in a fairly spirited way and there was a short scrimmage between the second varsity and the scrubs. The second varsity, however, had an early start, and the scrubs were in the field with the ball. The varsity ran signals and was coached on the finer points of the game by Coach Helman and Assistant Coach Devore.

Tuesday afternoon there will be another scrimmage between the varsity and the scrubs. Everything from now on is to be kept secret. Not even Tech students are allowed to see the varsity practice. It is to keep people from butting into it and to keep things as intact as possible.

Prep Championship Race Between Tech and Boys High Teams

HANK'S EIGHTEENTH DAY--HE DISCOVERS A NEST OF EGGS.

--BY FARREN

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

JOHN WESLEY COOMBS.
(Jack Coombs, the Athletic pitcher, is much better and will soon be out of the hospital.--News Note.)
To those who know him this means more than any ball game ever won:
Beyond the play of any score
Or any pennant-winning run;
Beyond the might of any speed,
Beyond the break of any curve,
Beyond the worth of any deed
Put through by any sort of nerve

Great pitchers come and pitchers go,
And have their day upon the mound,
But here's a bloke you'd like to know--
The kind you like to have around.
A good old-fashioned cove he is,
And well above the ruling spell;
Let records go and bang--growl!
I'm glad Jack Coombs is getting well.

TWO RICE SPORTS
ETAOI HRDLU TAON HR
Why not stage one final free-for-all world series championship between Harvard and the Athletics? Think of it! Harvard and Harvard meeting Collins Baker and Barry in a head-on smash--head-on, right feet and bats in one all-absorbing tangle.

We don't know whether Jack Coombs will ever throw another ball, but that won't keep him from being one of the best fellows that stalked the trail. To a great pitcher is something. To be a regular fellow in every angle of the game is something else.

"Why don't you take the Federal League seriously?" queried S. H. C. "Are you too in with the baseball trust?"
"No, I don't take any league seriously at this time of the year. Not even that portion of any league which embraces Browns, Cardinals and Reds."

PLAYING OUT THE SCHEDULE.
Out west they are having a nip and tuck time of it here and there with several contenders of equal worth or almost equal worth in the scrimmage.

But in the east the championship situation appears to be a mere afterthought of playing out the schedule. Chasing J. Harvard is much like the work of chasing the Mackinnon with a twelve-gauge lead. Washington and Cleveland set sail on a number of occasions but you recall the final verdict. Princeton and Yale still have a shot left at the Crimson unless they win the championship road without a switch. What is any way to imply that barring a young miracle the Cambridge machine will swing down the championship road without a switch. What are you going to do with an eleven composed of weight, speed, power, team play and experience? Wait to be brief, not so very much.

THE 1913 RANKING.
These east and west inclined to rank the different eleven will have something like this at the end of the season. For the time there can be no ranking--no true ranking, by tradition, by what used to be--with the records of the smaller A. C. Pittsburgh University and W. and J. in mind. The smaller college eleven only got a shot and there at the Mail of Fame, and when they are good enough to rise from the rut they are for all the credit possible and for future in full. A name is a name--but the records of the eleven are above any menial, however fringed it may be with a wonderful past.

THEIR'S A CHANCE ANYWAY.
It will be a terrific blow to Dave Putz not to be recognized by the National commission, but being of a strong, virile nature, he figures that with full application of his rugged will he will be able to bear up under the shock.

We know how Mr. Putz must feel about it. If we knew that we were not to be recognized by the commission, the chances are we wouldn't be able to eat over three or four meals a day, or sleep over twelve hours a night as we brooded over our wretched plight.

Coombs has one of the greatest young left-handers ever uncovered in Tex Russell. But working a young pitcher overtime from April to October, and then having him peek the pill around the world through fall and winter isn't our idea of the best way to conserve talent. Ed Walsh was an iron man, too, but he found last season that even iron carries its limit.

AS BETWEEN TWO EVILS CHOOSE--
If the deal which is supposed to send Fred Merkle to St. Louis is carried, the news should be withheld until the world tour is over. It would take a brave soul to start back even from the Orient and know that one's destination was to be under the standard of Mr. Cardinals. Fred might lose his nerve and decide to stick around in Omea or Tokio.

One thing, though if Merkle is ever traded to the Cardinals they can never accuse him of ever losing his nerve. Not in this present dynasty of awat.

Demetrios, a Greek wrestler, says that no handman's nose could ever break his neck. And no shot from a 20-inch gun could ever dent his head. A great little institution, this wrestling game. It makes even the onlookers immune to punishment.

"It would be interesting to know," queries an expert, "as to which of the 'white hopes' is really the best." In the bright lexicon of white hopes there is no such word as best.

It is impossible for one piece of cheese to smell sweeter than another. Its fragrance may only be a trifle less penetrating.

Charley Herzog Brought Out the Athletics' Distinguished Home-Run Hitter

J. Franklin Baker, the Trappe, Md., baseball product, who, in the recent fall classic, upheld his name of a home-run hitter, probably owes his ability and present position in the pastime to a string of most peculiar coincidences.

The strangest part of his advent into professional baseball and his early development is that it was one of the Giants, "Charley" Herzog, who virtually discovered him and guided him in his early training. It was also Herzog who made a third baseman out of him. Baker's story follows:

"Charley" Herzog, of the Giants, it was his idea to divide the South Atlantic League into two divisions, the class B league. He is building up his league by ideas never before put into execution in baseball.

Mr. Corish is one of the most modern of baseball men, even if he leads only a class B league. He is building up his league by ideas never before put into execution in baseball.

Mr. Corish's greatest claim to fame as a baseball man is his idea of a "batting cage" for the purpose of training players to hit the ball.

TICK CORISH HAS IDEAS

Sally President True Baseball Progressive

A man with original ideas may or may not be a much sought individual, all depending upon whether his ideas will bear the scrutiny of logical brains and the test of execution. But when a man's ideas fill both these conditions, he is a man to be envied. It is not long before he becomes famous.

Such a man is S. P. Corish, of Shannah, Ga., president of the South Atlantic Baseball league.

Mr. Corish has original ideas and he talks horse sense.

He is now on a highway to earn himself a national reputation as a baseball Solomon.

Mr. Corish is one of the most modern of baseball men, even if he leads only a class B league. He is building up his league by ideas never before put into execution in baseball.
